St. Charles thrives thanks to our volunteers!

Megan McCall is one of our valuable volunteers at St. Charles. This year she has undertaken the position as Uniform Exchange Closet Coordinator. She spends about 4 hours a month organizing the clothing, with the busiest times being at the beginning and the end of the school year. When asked what she enjoyed about this position she answered, "I love being able to help and give back. The teachers and staff work so hard for all our kids. I have little kids; a kindergartener, a three year old and a one year old, so I needed a job that has flexible hours and one that I could bring them along". She also said she enjoys getting to know the staff and having the opportunity to outfit all the kids in almost new uniforms. She noted that the uniform exchange is an amazing resource and she has been able to outfit her son from the uniform closet! In addition to this position, Megan is also the Kindergarten Room Coordinator and PTO class representative. Thank you, Megan; for all that you do for our school!

Happy Birthday!
