OBJECTIVES

- Evaluate the diagnostic options of headache, including migraine, cluster, and chronic headaches, as well as the comorbidities of headache.
- Incorporate recent advances in headache treatment for the recidivist patient, utilizing a variety of therapeutic options, including preventive and acute care.
- Integrate recent knowledge of gender issues in headache therapy, and utilize appropriate treatment options at the various stages of the female's patient life. Also, consider the intricacies of treating the pediatric patient with headache.

INTENDED AUDIENCE

This course is intended for all primary care providers and those specialists, including internal medicine, OB-GYN, pediatrics, emergency medicine, ENT, neurology, hospitalists, and psychiatry, and other health care professionals (R.N., N.P., P.A.) who are involved in the diagnosis and management of headache patients.

CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint sponsorship of Primary Care Network and the Diamond Headache Clinic Research & Educational Foundation. Primary Care Network is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Primary Care Network (PCN) has been surveyed by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) and awarded Accreditation with Commendation for 6 years as a provider of continuing medical education for physicians.

Primary Care Network designates this live activity for a maximum of 8 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This continuing medical education activity has been reviewed by the American Academy of Pediatrics and is acceptable for a maximum of 8 AAP credits. These credits can be applied toward the AAP CME/CPD Award available to Fellows and Candidate Members of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Application for CME credit has been filed with the American Academy of Family Physicians. Determination of credit is pending.
