

Important – Please read this information carefully before you complete your application. Once you have completed your application we strongly advise that you keep a copy for your records.

No fee is payable for an application for an Australian transit visa.

Who completes this form?

You should complete this application form if you intend to remain in Australia no longer than 72 hours and if you can establish that the principal purpose in entering Australia is:

- to pass through Australia in transit to another country (Where a 'stopover' is intended, you should apply for the appropriate visa in a visitor class instead.); or
- to pass through Australia to join a vessel as a crew member (Note: Persons entering Australia to join a cruise ship as a passenger should apply for a visitor visa).

Children included in a parent's/guardian's passport need not complete a separate application form if they are under 18 years of age. Details of such children can be included on their parent's/guardian's application form.

Children not included in a parent's or guardian's passport must fill in a separate application however a parent/guardian must sign on behalf of the applicant if the applicant is under 16 years of age.

Please answer all questions fully and correctly. An incorrect answer, or failure to provide an answer to any question, will be taken into account when your application is being considered and could lead to the refusal of your application.

Travel agents may complete this form for you but you must sign the declaration.

For information on the making and processing of visa applications, see the information form 1025i Making and processing visa applications.

Integrity of application

The Department of Immigration and Border Protection (the department) is committed to maintaining the integrity of the visa and citizenship programs. In relation to this application, if you or a member of your family unit:

- provide, or have provided in a previous application, fraudulent documents or false or misleading information (knowingly or not); and/or
- fail to satisfy, or have failed to satisfy in a previous application, the Minister of your or their identity;

this visa application may be refused and you, and any members of your family unit, may become unable to be granted a visa for specified periods of time, as set out in migration legislation. If documents are found to be fraudulent or information to be incorrect after the grant of a visa, the visa may subsequently be cancelled.

What is needed with the application?

Persons other than crew joining a vessel

You must enclose with your application:

- a passport valid for travel to Australia issued to, or including, each person in the application;
- a recent passport-type photograph of each person included in the application (the photograph must be signed on the back by the person to whom it refers);
- an itinerary;
- evidence of confirmed onward booking to continue your journey from Australia to a third country within 72 hours of arrival; and
- correct documentation (eg. visa) for entry to that third country.

Persons joining as crew of a vessel

Foreign members of crew employed on foreign non-military ships which are in Australia during an international voyage are required to hold an Australian maritime crew visa. A maritime crew visa may only be applied for while the applicant is outside Australia. A maritime crew visa is valid for multiple entries to Australia for 3 years from the date it is granted and only permits travel to Australia by sea. Crew who need to travel to Australia by air to join a ship may apply for a transit visa to travel to Australia but applicants will be checked by immigration officials to ascertain if they hold a maritime crew visa. If you do not hold a maritime crew visa when you apply for a transit visa, you may be refused a transit visa to travel to Australia.

Your application should be accompanied by:

- a passport; and
- documentary proof you are employed on, or are to be employed on, the ship you are joining in Australia.

The following details are to be supplied by the local shipping/handling agent:

- the name of the person joining the vessel as crew (the applicant);
- the name of the person the applicant is replacing;
- the name of the company employing the applicant;
- the name of the vessel being joined;
- the date of arrival in Australia of the applicant;
- the port and date the applicant is expected to join the vessel; and
- if the agent is not the vessel's owner, a copy of the request for crew from the vessel's agent in Australia. The request should contain the details of the applicant.

Your transit visa, if granted, will permit you to travel to Australia by air and enter once only. Your maritime crew visa will allow you a period of 5 days to sign onto your vessel after you arrive in Australia. If you fail to sign onto your vessel in that time, your maritime crew visa will cease and you may be liable for removal from Australia.

How you lodge the application

Your completed application accompanied by the passport and photograph may be lodged by you or by your representative or sent by mail. If the passport is to be returned by mail you must provide an addressed passport-size envelope and sufficient postage.

Residential address

You must provide the address where you and any persons included on this application form intend to live while your application is being dealt with. Failure to give your residential address in this application will result in this application being invalid. A post office box address will not be accepted as your residential address.

Documents required on arrival

- Passport with a valid visa for travel to Australia and if crew joining a vessel, another document that identifies the holder as a seafarer.
- Return or onward ticket or other documentation for travel and entry to a destination beyond Australia.
- Completed incoming passenger card (will be available on ship/aircraft prior to arrival).

Period of stay in Australia

Your stay in Australia must be for no longer than 72 hours. Extensions of stay will not be granted.

Transit visa conditions

Transit visas have the following conditions attached to them. If you do not comply with the conditions, your visa may be cancelled and you will become an unlawful non-citizen.

You must not:

- work in Australia; or
- undertake formal studies or training in Australia.

Passport information

Please note that visa applicants will be required to hold a valid passport before they can be granted a visa. It is strongly recommended that the passport be valid for at least 6 months prior to travel.

If you change your passport after you have been granted the visa you must notify the nearest Australian mission or office of the department

If you do not provide the department with the details of any new or additional passport you use to travel to Australia, you will experience significant delays at the airport and could be denied permission to board your plane.

Immigration assistance

A person gives immigration assistance to you if he or she uses, or claims to use, his or her knowledge or experience in migration procedure to assist you with your visa application, request for ministerial intervention, cancellation review application, sponsorship or nomination.

In Australia a person may only lawfully give immigration assistance if he or she is a registered migration agent or is exempt from being registered. Only registered migration agents may receive a fee or reward for providing immigration assistance.

If an unregistered person in Australia, who is not exempt from registration, gives you immigration assistance they are committing a criminal offence and may be prosecuted.

Migration agents in Australia

Migration agents in Australia must be registered with the Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority (Office of the MARA) unless they are exempt from registration.

Migration agents outside Australia

Migration agents who operate outside Australia do not have to be registered. The department may give some overseas agents an ID number. This number does not mean that they are registered.

Note: Some Australian registered migration agents operate overseas.

Migration agent information

A migration agent is someone who can:

- advise you on the visa that may best suit you;
- tell you the documents you need to submit with your application;
- help you fill in the application and submit it; and
- communicate with the department on your behalf.

If you appoint a migration agent, the department will assume that your migration agent will be your authorised recipient, unless you indicate otherwise.

Your migration agent will be the person with whom the department will discuss your application and from whom it will seek further information when required.

You are not required to use a migration agent. However, if you use a migration agent, the department encourages you to use a registered migration agent. Registered agents are bound by the Migration Agents Code of Conduct, which requires them to act professionally in their clients' lawful best interests.

Information on migration agents, including a list of registered migration agents, is available on the Office of the MARA website www.mara.gov.au

You can also access information about migration agents on the department's website www.border.gov.au

Exempt persons

The following people do not have to be a registered migration agent in order to provide immigration assistance, but they must not charge a fee for their service:

- a close family member (spouse, de facto partner, child, parent, brother or sister);
- a member of parliament or their staff;
- an official whose duties include providing immigration assistance (eg. a Legal Aid provider);
- a member of a diplomatic mission, consular post or international organisation.

Appointing a migration agent/exempt person

To appoint a migration agent/exempt person you should complete Part E – Options for receiving written communications.

Your migration agent/exempt person should complete form 956 Advice by a migration agent/exempt person of providing immigration assistance.

Form 956 is available from the department's website www.border.gov.au/allforms/

Options for receiving written communications

If you do not appoint a migration agent/exempt person you may still authorise another person, in writing, to receive written communications on your behalf. This person is called the authorised recipient.

Authorised recipient information

All written communication about your application will be sent to your authorised recipient, unless you indicate that you wish to have health and/or character information sent directly to you.

The department will communicate with the most recently appointed authorised recipient as you may only appoint one authorised recipient at any one time for a particular application.

You will be taken to have received any documents sent to that person as if they had been sent to you.

To appoint an authorised recipient you should complete:

- Part E – Options for receiving written communications; and
- form 956A Appointment or withdrawal of an authorised recipient.

Note: Migration agents/exempt persons do not need to complete form 956A.

Form 956A is available from the department's website www.border.gov.au/allforms/

Consent to communicate electronically

The department may use a range of means to communicate with you. However, electronic means such as fax or email will only be used if you indicate your agreement to receiving communication in this way.

To process your application the department may need to communicate with you about sensitive information, for example, health, police checks, financial viability and personal relationships. Electronic communications, unless adequately encrypted, are not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with.

If you agree to the department communicating with you by electronic means, the details you provide will only be used by the department for the purpose for which you have provided them, unless there is a legal obligation or necessity to use them for another purpose, or you have consented to use for another purpose. They will not be added to any mailing list.

The Australian Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the department over the internet or by other electronic means.

If you authorise another person to receive documents on your behalf and they wish to be contacted electronically, their signature is required on form 956 or 956A to indicate their consent to this form of communication.

Note: Electronic communication is the fastest means of communication available and the department prefers to communicate electronically because this results in faster processing.

Important information about privacy

Your personal information is protected by law, including the Privacy Act 1988. Important information about the collection, use and disclosure (to other agencies and third parties, including overseas entities) of your personal information, including sensitive information, is contained in form 1442i Privacy notice. Form 1442i is available from the department's website www.border.gov.au/allforms/ or offices of the department. You should ensure that you read and understand form 1442i before completing this form.
