From the Pastor's Desk: A Spiritual Reflection for St. Patrick's Day

Dear Parishioners,

Christ Be With Me

May the strength of God pilot me, the power of God preserve me today.

May the wisdom of God instruct me, the eye of God watch over me,

The ear of God hear me, the word of God give me sweet talk,

The hand of God defend me, the way of God guide me.

Christ be with me, Christ before me.

Christ after me, Christ in me.

Christ under me, Christ over me.

Christ on my right hand, Christ on my left hand.

Christ on this side, Christ on that side.

Christ at my back.

Christ in the head of everyone to whom I speak.

Christ in the mouth of every person who speaks to me.

Christ in the eye of every person who looks at me.

Christ in the ear of every person who hears me today.

(From a hymn traditionally ascribed to Saint Patrick)

Reflection: The feast of Saint Patrick, which falls within the Lenten season, reminds us eloquently---and irresistibly---of the intense need for Christ-consciousness, which deserves to be celebrated in a colorful manner. In the course of the year, our awareness of the abiding presence of Christ may tend to waver and wither, growing at times dim and fragile, even though he is with us always, even to the end of time. Lent is a special season to awaken and inflame within us a passionate desire for Christ. St. Patrick's famous prayer "Christ Be With Me" celebrates this desire for Christ, whose presence permeates everyone, everything, and everywhere. The parades and pints, banquets and bagpipes, dances and drinks, family and friends, food and festivities, laughter and love, joy and jokes, pride and passion---all of which mark St. Patrick's Day celebrations, point unmistakably to the implicit vision: Christ-consciousness. St. Patrick upheld that vision; he lived for that vision. How can the Irish, the others who rejoice with them, and all Christians be not captivated by this central truth of St. Patrick's life: to be acutely and joyfully aware of the person of Christ?

St. Patrick rightly acknowledges God, whose strength, power, wisdom, eye, ear, word, hand, and way he seeks earnestly. Through these anthropomorphic images, God is not only felt but also imagined to be reaching out to us in protection, preservation, and guidance. Imagination is one of the best ways of encountering the "spirit and truth." Our rational mind is too limited even to begin to scratch the outermost edges of the most profound mystery of God.

We have to use the imagination to glimpse into our God who is love. St. Patrick is capable of imagining his life with God. That's why he attributes personal qualities to God who is close to us. He wants, for instance, his "sweet talk" to come from God's word, not his own.

Invoking Jesus Christ, St. Patrick speaks both implicitly and lucidly about how the Father is revealed most perfectly in His Son, our brother and friend and lord. Jesus is God's face turned toward the world. In Jesus Christ God speaks in ways the humans can see, hear, feel, and touch (1 Jn 1:1). Jesus is the Word of God, the Word made flesh. Therefore, St. Patrick is theologically and spiritually insightful when he seeks Jesus Christ to be present everywhere, in and out. He wants Jesus to be with him, before him, after him, in him, under him, over him, on his right, on his left, this side and that, and behind him. What a marvelous imagination!

St. Patrick places Jesus not only about him in a comprehensive manner but also in the other persons with whom he is in relationship. Jesus is present in the head of everyone St. Patrick speaks to, in the mouth of everyone who speaks to him, in the eye of everyone who looks at St. Patrick, and in the ear of everyone who hears him. In our interpersonal relationships, it is Jesus Christ who is the unseen guest and listener. We are at times unable to recognize him, as in the case of the disciples of Emmaus (Luke 24). Needless to say that Christ has to be known and recognized in such relationships as marriages, friendships, families, communities, governments, and international relations. If we have the eyes to see Jesus in these relationships, imagine how these interactions will be transformed into those of love and sharing!

In St. Patrick, as in the other Irish saints, in the great Irish poets, playwrights and storytellers, in their musicians, dancers, and singers, not to mention the Irish sensibility slanted toward an infectious sense of humor, God in Jesus Christ is touched and imagined. Jesus stands gently, looking at the Irish and all others who can tell a joke and laugh and imagine their life with God--- and smiles at them.

Action: Invite Jesus in and all around you and into your relationships. As you tell him, "Christ, be with me," be convinced that he is with you every moment and every day. It is the truth.

Your Friend and Pastor,

Father Charles Puthota
