If you file a claim in the FDC Program and it is determined that other records exist and VA needs the records to decide your claim, then VA will simply remove the claim from the FDC Program (Optional Expedited Process) and process it in the Standard Claim Process. See below for more information. If you wish to file your claim in the FDC Program, see FDC Program (Optional Expedited Process). If you wish to file your claim under the process in which VA traditionally processes claims, see Standard Claim Process.

To support your claim for death pension benefits, the evidence must show: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> The veteran met certain minimum requirements regarding active service during a period of war. Generally, those requirements involve: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 90 days of consecutive service, at least one day of which was during a period of war; OR 90 days of combined service during at least one period of war; (Note : If the veteran's service began after September 7, 1980, additional length-of-service requirements may apply, typically requiring two years of continuous service or completion of active-duty obligations.) OR any length of active service during a period of war when: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> At the time of death, the veteran was receiving (or entitled to receive) VA disability compensation or retirement pay for a service-connected disability; OR The veteran was discharged from active service due to a service-connected disability. Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (DIC)
To support a claim for Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (DIC) benefits based on a service-connected disability established during the veteran's lifetime, the evidence must show: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The veteran died while on active service; OR The veteran had a service-connected disability(ies) that was either the principal or contributory cause of the veteran's death; OR The veteran died from non service-connected injury or disease AND was receiving, or entitled to receive VA compensation for a service-connected disability rated totally disabling: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> For at least 10 years immediately before death; OR For at least 5 years after the veteran's release from active duty preceding death; OR For at least 1 year before death, if the veteran was a former prisoner of war who died after September 30, 1999 To support a claim for DIC benefits based on a disability that was not service-connected or for which the veteran did not file a claim during his or her lifetime, the evidence must show: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> An injury or disease that was incurred or aggravated during active service, or an event in service that caused an injury or disease; AND A physical or mental disability that was either the principle or contributory cause of death. This may be shown by medical evidence or by lay evidence of persistent and recurrent symptoms of disability that were visible or observable; AND A relationship between the disability associated with the cause of death and an injury, disease, or event in service. This may be shown by medical records or medical opinion or, in certain cases, by lay evidence

To support your claim for DIC benefits based upon the service person's active duty for training, the evidence must show:

- The service person was disabled during active duty for training due to a disease or injury incurred in the line of duty, and the disease or injury caused or contributed to the service person's death.

If VA granted service connection for a disease or injury during the service person's lifetime, evidence that the service-connected disease or injury caused or contributed to the service person's death may satisfy this requirement.

To support a claim for DIC benefits based on a disability that was not service-connected or for which the service person did not file a claim during his or her lifetime, the evidence must show:

- The service person was disabled during active duty for training due to a disease or injury incurred in the line of duty; AND

- A relationship between the principal or contributory cause of death and the disability due to injury or disease, incurred in the line of duty. This may be shown by medical records or medical opinions or, in certain cases, by lay evidence.

To support your claim for DIC benefits based upon the service person's inactive duty training, the evidence must show:

If VA granted service connection for an injury, acute myocardial infarction, or cerebrovascular accident during the service person's lifetime, evidence that the service-connected condition caused or contributed to the service person's death may satisfy this requirement.

To support a claim for DIC benefits based on a disability that was not service-connected or for which the service person did not file a claim during his or her lifetime, the evidence must show:

- The service person was disabled during inactive duty training due to an injury incurred or aggravated in the line of duty, or acute myocardial infarction, cardiac arrest, or cerebrovascular accident that occurred during such training; AND
- The injury, acute myocardial infarction, cardiac arrest, or cerebrovascular accident caused or contributed to the service person's death

- The death was:
 - the direct result of VA fault such as carelessness, negligence, lack of proper skill, or error in judgment; OR
 - the direct result of an event that was not a reasonably expected result or complication of the VA care or treatment; OR
 - the direct result of participation in a VA Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment or compensated work therapy program

Reopened DIC:

In order to reopen a claim previously denied by VA, we need new and material evidence. New and material evidence must raise a reasonable possibility of substantiating your claim. The evidence cannot simply be repetitive or cumulative of the evidence we had when we previously decided your claim. VA will make reasonable efforts to help you obtain currently existing evidence. However, we cannot provide a medical examination or obtain a medical opinion until your claim is successfully reopened.

- To qualify as new, the evidence must currently exist and be submitted to VA for the first time
- In order to be considered material, the additional existing evidence must pertain to the reason your claim was previously denied

Helpless Child:

To support a claim for benefits based on a veteran's child being helpless, the evidence must show that the child, before his or her 18th birthday, became permanently incapable of self-support due to a mental or physical disability.

IMPORTANT

If you are certifying that you are married for the purpose of VA benefits, your marriage must be recognized by the place where you and/or your spouse resided at the time of marriage, or where you and/or your spouse resided when you filed your claim (or a later date when you became eligible for benefits) (38 U.S.C. § 103(c)). Additional guidance on when VA recognizes marriages is available at <http://www.va.gov/opa/marriage/>.

HOW VA DETERMINES THE EFFECTIVE DATE

If we grant a claim for death benefits, the beginning date of your entitlement will generally be based on when we received your claim. However, if VA received your claim within one year of the date of the veteran's death, entitlement will be from the first day of the month in which the veteran died.

The veteran's death certificate is evidence relevant to determining the effective date of any benefits we award.

Higher levels of benefits are available for a veteran's surviving spouse and/or parents who are unable to perform certain activities of daily living or leave their home. Higher levels of benefits may be effective from the date medical evidence first establishes entitlement.
